Dear Friends and Supporters:

Since joining Strong Women, Strong Girls in 2019, I have had the pleasure of working with an amazing Board of Directors and staff of professionals focused on youth development and the advancement of women and girls. I am so proud of what our team has accomplished over the last 3 years, and even more excited about where SWSG can go next.

During the COVID-19 crisis, marginalized youth have been disproportionately impacted by higher rates of COVID infections, deaths in loved ones, food and housing insecurity, lack of access to technology and online learning, and increased stress. A recent article from The Chronicle of Evidence-Based Mentoring highlights that “marginalized youth are likely to bear the heaviest burdens of trauma and economic fallout” from COVID-19 (Astesano, 2020).

The research shows that mentees from organizations like SWSG are about twice as likely to live in extreme poverty, in a single-parent household, or have an incarcerated family member. These are the girls that SWSG prioritizes—those who live in economically disadvantaged communities who attend school districts in need of our program. It is now more important than ever to provide socio-emotional support to girls being disproportionately impacted by this pandemic.

• Black children make up about 20% of children losing a parent to COVID-19 (though they represent 14% of all children in the US), furthering the risk of trauma and depression (US Dept of ED, 2021). In addition, social isolation during the pandemic has led to a decrease in access to support from family, peers, and other role models (Society for Research in Child Development, 2020).

• In a May 2020 survey of elementary, middle, and high school girls, The ROX Institute for Research and Training found that 79% of girls reported feeling more lonely or isolated since the start of the pandemic, with 33% saying they feel much more lonely/isolated.

• In crisis situations when children are removed from school, they fall behind not just in academics but in critical social-emotional learning (Kamenetz, 2020).

These statistics are staggering— but the solution is clear. SWSG is committed to starting our next chapter with a focus on being a part of that solution to support women and girls at this historic time in our lives! By participating in SWSG, even remotely, girls enter a community of peers and mentors in which they can identify and share their emotions (Character & Caring), give and receive support (Contribution & Connection), and foster strength and positive identity (Confidence & Competence), as well as the opportunity to build impactful relationships via weekly meetings.

In September 2020, we embarked on a strategic planning process that outlined our path toward future growth and expansion, “Building for a Stronger Future: 2025.” The plan details six strategic goals that will strengthen the organization’s leadership, infrastructure, and programs while focusing on our renewed commitment to Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging.
Our Vision (cont’d)

1. Strategic Leadership: Develop an active and engaged Board of Directors to oversee the strategic direction of the organization.

2. Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Belonging: Increase diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) across all areas of the organization with a focus on anti-racism, gender inclusivity, and accessibility (AGIA).

3. Investment: Improve financial position to ensure sustainability and position SWSG for growth and expansion.

4. Programming: Continue to strengthen the multi-generational program model to best serve the community.

5. Infrastructure: Ensure that the organization has the infrastructure and staff to fulfill its mission.

6. Community: Solidify SWSG’s position as a premier female-focused mentoring organization.

As we embark on this journey, our team shares one collective vision. We Believe:

- Through our current programs, women and girls can believe in their power to change the world.
- SWSG staff, board members, and community partners can function as one cohesive team to bring SWSG and its programs to even more women and girls.
- Our organization will continue to embark on smart, strategic, and measurable growth until all women and girls are empowered by and confident in their ability.

Over the next three years, we will deepen our commitment to our girls, and the framework for growth and expansion. We will achieve these goals by doing the work necessary for our constituents in Boston, Pittsburgh, and beyond. We know our existing program sites continue to be integral building blocks that influence many women and girls in our communities, but we will strive to reach beyond our current footprint. We will expand our programs to include a hybrid model of the virtual and in-person platforms enabling us to increase our impact.

As a key member of the SWSG community, I envision your partnership with SWSG evolving and growing as you join us on this journey toward change. We welcome your participation!

In Strength,

Strong Women, Strong Girls Inc.’s new Strategic Plan (FY22-FY24), “Building for a Stronger Future” aims to build our capacity to serve more girls and women in Boston, Pittsburgh, and beyond. Building for a Stronger Future will 1) encourage the collaboration and commitment of our staff, Board of Directors, community partners, volunteers, and donors to position our programs so they are poised for expansion 2) strengthen our organizational infrastructure to support future growth, and 3) enhance our fundraising platform to increase our capacity.

During the 2020-2021 Fiscal Year, a team of SWSG staff, board members, and supporters worked together to identify areas of opportunity for the organization and established six key goals for the next three years. At the close of the three-year plan period, SWSG will expand geographically, programatically, and structurally.

Building for a Stronger Future: Strategic Goals

1. Strategic Leadership: Develop an active and engaged Board of Directors to oversee the strategic direction of the organization. Board leadership is key to the success of SWSG’s program. This goal was built to unify the board around common goals, including establishing a culture of philanthropy and diversifying all SWSG stakeholder groups.

2. Diversity, Equity & Inclusion: Increase diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) across all areas of the organization with a focus on antiracism, gender inclusivity, and accessibility (AGIA). SWSG is committed to not only diversifying the staff, board, and volunteers who drive the organization forward, but also equipping stakeholders with the tools to best serve our girls and the unique challenges they face.

3. Investment: Improve financial position to ensure sustainability and position SWSG for growth. Through a capacity-building fundraising campaign, SWSG will spend the next three years establishing financial security that will allow for infrastructure and program improvements, as well as provide a foundation for expansion.

4. Programming: Continue to strengthen the multi-generational program model to best serve the community. Building on the success of SWSG’s core programs, every facet of our mentoring model will be explored to incorporate stakeholder feedback, ensure high-quality service for our girls and mentors, and optimize the model for smart, strategic growth into new geographic areas.

5. Infrastructure: Ensure that the organization has the infrastructure to fulfill its mission. From our staffing model to embedding key technological tools, SWSG’s strategy hinges on a solid infrastructure that enables staff members to perform at the highest levels.

6. Community: Solidify SWSG’s position as a premier mentoring organization. By leveraging strategic partnerships and continuing the upward trajectory of our public profile, SWSG will become entrenched in our local communities, not only as a resource for mentoring programs, but as a valued partner for positive change in our cities and regions.
Implementing “Building for a Stronger Future” will take place over three fiscal years utilizing specific strategies aimed at achieving each goal. The below chart outlines the completion timeline for each strategy.

Please Note: SWSG’s full implementation plan includes numerous actionable steps beyond what you see here. If you have questions about how SWSG will achieve its goals, please contact your local office.
